August News

The first full week of school is in swing. There is nothing more exciting than the smiles and sounds of the students being back at school. I am very proud of our students and staff for making the first few days of school very successful.

Each month, we all focus on a pillar of character. August's pillar is Trustworthiness. The other side of trust is being trusted. We are trusted only when others think we worthy of their trust. There are practical advantages and emotional rewards to being trusted that provide incentives to being trustworthy. People who trust us give us greater leeway because they don't need rules and contracts to assure that we will meet our obligations.

For more information on the pillars of character, please visit: <https://www.character.org/>.

Have an AWESOME week!

Ms. Armstrong
