Home-Based Learning: Home Based learning refers to the instruction delivered to students when they are not in-person but intend on returning to in-person when campuses reopen. Teachers in Home Based learning will have a designated schedule on when to interact with their students and use the Google Classroom and the Google Suite to deliver instruction and curriculum. Home Based learning will occur when schools are not open for in-person instruction and will stop when schools are allowed to resume in-person instruction.

Online Learning: Online learning refers to the instruction delivered to students who do not intend to return to in-person/on-campus instruction when campuses reopen. Teachers in online learning will use Google Classroom and the Google Suite to deliver instruction and curriculum. Teachers will host whole group lessons, both virtually and in person. The teachers will then meet with Online and Hybrid Students in their small groups to ensure small group instructions. There may be designated teachers who are Hybrid/Online Teachers. Online learning rosters might be from different grade levels to efficiently allocate resources to meet the needs of our students.

Hybrid Learning: Hybrid learning refers to the instruction delivered to students who intend to attend school two days a week (Monday/Tuesday or Thursday/Friday). Teachers in online learning/hybrid learning will use Google Classroom and the Google Suite to deliver instruction and curriculum. Teachers will host whole group lessons, both virtually and in person. The teachers will then meet with Online and Hybrid Students in their small groups to ensure small group instructions. There may be designated teachers who are Hybrid/Online Teachers. Special Education Accommodations for Home Based, Online and Hybrid Experiences

Staff will work to ensure that students are able to access the curriculum. The IEP or 504 team may convene as necessary to discuss.

Students will have regular meetings with Special Education Staff during Online and Hybrid through Google Classroom and the Google Suite to fulfill Special Education support minutes.

Testing Accommodations: Many students have accommodations that apply to test situations. The most difficult is having a test read to a student. If you have a student in that situation, here is the Chromebook version of text to speech directions:

1. At the bottom right, select the time. Or press Alt + Shift + s.
2. Select Settings.
3. At the bottom, select Advanced.
4. In the "Accessibility" section, select Manage accessibility features.
5. Under "Text-to-Speech," turn on Enable ChromeVox (spoken feedback).

Extended time - the case manager and/or teacher will collaborate with the student on appropriate accommodations
